

WHAT ARE PHEROMONES?

Pheromones are chemical substances produced and released by animals in their environment, in order to communicate with other individuals of the same species. They influence the behavior or physiological responses of the receiving individuals.

SecureBunny™ is a range of bunny products based on Rabbit Appeasing Pheromone (RAP) which is naturally produced by rabbits to reassure their young. We have developed an exact copy of the RAP that provides bunnies with a safe, peaceful and reassuring environment that promotes their well-being. The products have no side effects or drowsiness.
