WHAT ARE PHEROMONES?

Pheromones are chemical substances produced and released by animals in their environment, in order to communicate with other individuals of the same species. They influence the behavior or physiological responses of the receiving individuals.

SecureCat™ is a range of cat products based on Feline Facial Pheromone (F3). We have developed an exact copy of the F3 that provides cats with a safe, peaceful and reassuring environment that promotes their well-being. The products cause no adverse effects or drowsiness.
